

CF200X™

With a proven record of performance and durability, the CF200 is the drysuit choice for technical and professional divers in demanding conditions worldwide. As pioneers in exposure protection, DUI discovered the advantages of crushing neoprene and then developed and refined their patented process. Although many others claim the benefits of compression, DUI is the only manufacturer that has truly perfected crushed neoprene art. The lack of bubbles in our crushed neoprene suits, as well as the abrasion and puncture resistance of the material, makes it the most durable material used in the construction of drysuits today. Dive for dive, the craftsmanship and innovation utilized in every CF200 make this the least expensive suit per dive to own.
